Friday, January 5. 1705.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Jan. 2.

Naples, December 10.

THE Advices from Messina tell us, that an Ingenier has taken a View of the Damage done to the Castle of Syracuse, which was lately blown up by Lightning falling into the Magazine of Powder there; and having reported to the Cardinal del Giudice Viceroy of Sicily, what Condition he found the Place in, the Viceroy has order'd Men to be set to work to make the necessary Repairs. There were 30 Soldiers and several Prisoners found dead in the Ruins of the said Castle, but the Marquis de Monroi the Governour was preserv'd, the Force of the Powder that blew up not reaching the Chamber where he lay.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Jan. 1.

Legborne, Dec. 13. The 7th Instant in the Night, an Earthquake was felt at Florence; but it was not so violent as to do any Damage. The Count d'Ettingen Grand Prior of Malta arriv'd here a day or 2 ago; he confirms that the greatest Part of the Castle of Syracuse in Sicily is laid in Ruines by Lightning falling into a Magazine of Powder; and that 72 Persons were kill'd, and many more wounded. But adds, that at the Request of the Viceroy, the great Master of Malta has sent thither in 4 Galleys a good Number of Masons and other Workmen, who are to rebuild that part of the Castle which is ruin'd.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Dec. 30.

Vienna, Dec. 17. The Body of Troops commanded by General Heister being increas'd to 14000 effective Men, by the Reinforcements he has receiv'd from Silesia and other Parts, he sent a Lieutenant Collonel hither 3 days ago with Letters to the Imperial Ministers, in which he desir'd that a certain Number of Pontons might immediately be sent to him, that he might lay a Bridge over the Marck, and pass that River to march against the Malecontents. To day Pontons were sent to him on Waggon.

From the Amft. Cour. and Leid. Gaz. of Jan. 1. & 3.

Vienna, Dec. 20. The 17th Instant the King of the Romans arriv'd here, with his Queen, who went as far as Pulckau to meet him; and made a Magnificent Entry. The same day their Majesties din'd with the Emperor and Empress. The 18th the King of the Romans receiv'd the Compliments of the Court, as also of Cardinal Colonitz and the forreign Ministers, on his glorious Campaign and happy Return hither. That day the Queen of the Romans gave a splendid Entertainment in her Apartment; and their Imperial Majesties as also the Archduchesses were present. General Heister has pass'd the Mark with the Army he commands, and is advancing towards a Body of Rebels commanded by Count Berezeni entrench'd between Stamfen and Weissenberg. Prince Ragotski having abandon'd Newheusel, laid Siege to Leopolstad with a Body of Forces; and made Breaches sufficient for a General Assault. But we cannot learn the certain Issue of that Siege, some Advices saying the Place has been oblig'd to surrender to him for want of Provisions and other things necessary for its Defence, and others on the contrary that he has been oblig'd to raise the Siege and retire to Lewenz, upon the Approach of a strong Body of regular and Militia Troops commanded by the Generals Herberstein, Esterhasi, Nadafti, &c. These last mention'd Advices say further, that Prince Ragotski made so hasty a Retreat, that he left behind him the heavy Cannon which he had taken out of Newheusel to batter Leopolstad; of which we hope to receive the Confirmation and Particulars. The Malecontents that are on the great Island of Schur, sent lately in Boats 2000 Men to posses themselves of the little Island of that Name; but were repuls'd by the Troops we have on that Island, with the Loss of 200 Men that were either kill'd or drown'd in the Danube.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Jan. 6.

Vienna, Dec. 24. The Electress Dowager Palatine, the Empress's Mother, who in the late Troubles in Bavaria remov'd from Neubourg and went and resided first in Tirol and afterwards at Indenbourg in Stiria, arriv'd here the 20th Instant, with the Prince of Neubourg Bishop of Ausburg her Son, who went from hence a few Leagues to meet and bring her hither. She was receiv'd by their Imperial Majesties and the King and Queen of the Romans, with great Expressions of Affection, and with the Honour due to her Rank. 'Tis talk'd she will shortly go from hence to Neubourg, her former Place of Residence; and that the Prince her Son will also go to his Diocese of Ausburg. We have receiv'd an Account, that the Governour of Presburg being inform'd a considerable Party of Malecontents was come into a Village in the Neighbourhood of that Place, sent out a Detachment of Regular and Militia Troops, who the 22d Instant in the Night surpriz'd them, kill'd 2 or 300 of them on the Spot, and carried off a great many Horses and other Booty. We have receiv'd a Confirmation that the Malecontents commanded by Prince Ragotski broke up the Siege of Leopolstad some days ago; but that instead of retiring towards Lewenz as was reported, they have joyn'd the Army commanded by Count Berezeni, the better to make Head against General Heister, whose Army is augmented to 18000 Men by the Troops with which Count Herberschein and other Generals have joon'd him. General Heister advanc'd to the Malecontents and attack'd them the 22d, but was oblig'd to retire by reason of their great Numbers and the Intrenchments they have cast up. But he is resolv'd to attack them agen, as soon as he is reinforc'd by the Troops that are marching to joyn him from hence and other Places.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Jan. 6.

Vienna, Dec. 24. 'Tis advis'd from Hungary, that General Heister having been reinforce'd by Count Herberstein with all the Infantry, is in full March to attack the Generals Berezeni, Forgats, and Caroli, who with 40000 Men are intrench'd near Weissenberg, and seem resolv'd to stand him, he having not above 15000 Men, tho' those are indeed very good Troops.

A

A Report is spread to day that the Malecontents have not thought fit to venture an Engagement with General Heister, but are retir'd, as also that a Detachment which they sent to take a Pals near the Cloister of Mariendal guarded by some Imperialists have been repul's'd.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Jan. 6.

Vienna, Dec. 24. General Heister has attack'd the Malecontents near Weissenberg 3 times, but meeting greater Resistance than he expected was oblig'd to retire, and wait for Reinforcements. A certain Hungarian Captain arriv'd here, reports that Prince Ragnoki has not above 20000 Men in the Body of Troops he commands, but that part of them are regular Troops. The Forces of Berezeni, Forgatsch, and Caroli are joyn'd, and have attack'd a Pals defended by some Imperial Troops near Marienthal, but were so vigorously receiv'd, that they were oblig'd to retire.

The Grand Spagyrical Elixir for the BLOOD, which preserves it in its Integrity, actuates it when stagnated, purifies and enriches it when polluted and impoverish'd, by divesting it of all Humours that are Heterogene and Obnoxious. It's the greatest Cordial, and most noble Balsamic in Nature, delightful to the Spirits and Vitals, of pleasing Sensation to the Guts and Stomach, the only procurer and maintainer of true Appetite and Digestion, whereby wholesome Juices are created, and laudable Nourishment distributed. All preternatural Heats or Ferments, by it, are destroy'd, a regular Circulation obtain'd, the Seeds of Diseases (ever latent in the Blood) eradicated, the whole Mass renovated, and consequently a perfect State of Health restored and preserved. Without enlarging, It's as much a Panacea or universal Remedy as can be attain'd, is compleatly capable (a constant Series of Success evincing) of contending with, and subduing the most stubborn chronick Distempers, even when arriv'd to that Obduracy, as to have elid'd the Force of most other Remedies in Practice. By it, deprav'd ill Habits of Body, weakly, sickly Constitutions, where the Blood is poor and lifeless, and even the radical Moisture decaying, are alter'd, comforted and reformed, and the pale, maugre, death-like Countenances of such, rendered so fresh and florid, that a better Balsamic Medicine can scarcely be acquir'd. To be had only of the Author in Bridgewater-Square near Aldersgate-street, a Golden Head over the Door. At 3 s. 6 d. per Bottle.
